

CLINICAL SUPPLY & INVESTIGATIONAL DRUG SHIPPING

At QuickSTAT, we understand that there are many details involved in setting up clinical trials, and that speed is often a critical factor. That's why our specially trained team can assist you with everything from shipping clinical kits and supplies to establishing open lines of communication between investigator sites, the central lab and CRO. Specifically, QuickSTAT:

- > Ships clinical trial kits including investigational drugs, vials and general supplies anywhere in the world.
- > Provides the fastest transit times with next-flight-out and same-day delivery services.
- > Arranges charter flights if necessary for additional speed and increased security.
- > Places no size or weight restriction on shipments.
- > Controls each shipment individually, never consolidating shipments with others.
- > Analyzes and recommends the best routes available to meet your time and cost parameters.
- > Arranges for customs pre-clearance for all international shipments.
- > Closely tracks each shipment every step of the way.
- > Monitors temperature control and maintains the integrity of supplies door-to-door.
- > Provides assistance with Value Added Tax (VAT) reimbursement, deferment and exemption.
- > Sends automatic proof of delivery notification via the Web, email, phone or fax.

Since 1981, Quick International has been meeting impossible deadlines with consistent and personalized attention, and that is the foundation upon which QuickSTAT was built. We understand how important it is to get drugs to distributors or investigational sites as quickly as possible – wherever in the world they might be. We understand the importance of flexibility needed to get your supplies to their destination – regardless of the size or weight. We understand the importance of reliability and timeliness – and let you know automatically and immediately when your shipment has arrived. QuickSTAT is your partner for clinical supply and investigational drug shipping.
